Global Scale of English

"Keeps learners moving forward in the right direction"
The Global Scale of English (GSE) is a standardised, granular scale that measures English language proficiency. Unlike some other frameworks that measure English proficiency in broad bands, the Global Scale of English identifies what a learner can do at each point on a scale from 10 – 90, across each of the four skills: listening, reading, speaking and writing. Using the Global Scale of English, students and teachers can now answer three questions accurately:

- Exactly how good is my English?
- What progress have I made toward my learning goal?
- What do I need to do next if…?

Developing a more granular proficiency scale

The GSE builds on research by Brian North and the Council of Europe in creating the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). The GSE has been psychometrically aligned to the CEFR.

PTE YOUNG LEARNERS™

CEF Common European Framework

Scenario-based tests

PTE Young Learners’ distinguishing feature is its scenario-based test format: all the tasks revolve around an everyday situation which children can easily relate to. The topics are international, age-appropriate and interesting to children. Examples from past papers include “First Day at School”, “Grandma’s birthday”, and “A New Friend”, among others. It is this innovative feature that makes PTE Young Learners a highly recommended option in the field of international examinations for primary schools.

Student-friendly test format

PTE Young Learners includes a written paper with six tasks to assess listening, reading and writing. The written paper is followed by an oral test carried out in mini groups in which students perform two tasks: a board game with questions to answer, and a short talk about a topic. Specially trained examiners strive to create a positive, non-intimidating atmosphere throughout the test.

Feedback to students

PTE Young Learners provides detailed feedback about performance which includes the scores for listening, speaking, reading and writing. The grades awarded for the test are ‘Distinction’, ‘Merit’ or ‘Pass’.

Fun characters

PTE Young Learners introduces a not-so-typical English family “The Browns” as the main characters in the suite. The children enjoy reading about the everyday activities, adventures and mishaps of the Browns. They become familiar with the characters and events, which makes the testing experience very comfortable and highly engaging.
Preparing students for a challenging and demanding world

International Certification for adolescents and adults

PTE General is a six-level general English suite of tests which starts at Foundation level and stretches to Proficient level. All levels are aligned to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

PTE General is recognised globally and accepted by employers and national education authorities in many countries as evidence of a required level of English.

The six levels of the test are provided in partnership with Edexcel Limited, the largest UK awarding body for academic and vocational qualifications and accredited by Ofqual in the UK. The Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual) regulates qualifications, examinations and assessments in England, more info at:

Focus on communication

PTE General certifies students' language ability to use English for travel, further education or for better employment prospects. PTE General tests the abilities in English necessary to handle real life situations such as taking down notes, writing messages, understanding news articles, etc.

Integration of skills

PTE General assesses all four skills (Listening, Reading, Speaking and Writing) in an integrated way. For example: students listen to an announcement and then they write an email to a friend using the information from the announcement.

Test format

PTE General consists of two parts: a written paper and a spoken test. The written paper tests listening, reading comprehension and writing skills and is marked by external examiners in the UK. The spoken test is recorded by local examiners and the recordings of the sessions are sent to the UK for evaluation.

Realistic and familiar tasks

PTE General uses real-life material taken from authentic leaflets, magazines, broadcasts, newspapers, etc. PTE General contains familiar tasks that we usually perform in our lives, such as writing messages, understanding talks and newspaper articles, or participating in conversation.
Benefits of PTE

Communication skills are of vital importance to succeed in today’s demanding society. It is now a top priority in schools to develop these communication skills. Both PTE Young Learners and PTE General can help achieve this aim.

Having the focus on communication in real-life scenarios rather than on grammatical exercises, both PTE Young Learners and PTE General offer students the possibility to develop their communicative skills in an integrated way.

PTE Young Learners and PTE General provide a type of assessment that encourages learning, stimulates an interest in English, and offers a genuine proof of achievement in the mastery of a foreign language.

International Certification

PTE Young Learners and PTE General are provided by Edexcel Limited, the largest awarding body for academic and vocational qualifications in the UK.

PTE General certificates do not expire. English language learners are encouraged to seek opportunities to practice the language and confirm their progress regularly.

Key benefits for users
For School Leaders
• Provides a snapshot of overall proficiency of students across all four skills across a broader range of contexts than those tested by their course.
• Objectively demonstrates the impact of your teaching curriculum internally and to parents (independent test benchmarked against Global Scale of English and CEFR).
• Results support lesson planning through can-do statements and recommendations.
• Fast auto-marking to provide a reliable and consistent score free from human error, bias, or fluctuations between markers.
• Can be used to monitor progress over time.
• Allows teachers to spend time teaching as opposed to creating or marking tests.
• Test is administered in school (and can be taken at any time of year).
For teachers

• Teachers do not spend time creating or marking tests so can focus on helping students learn.
• Gain insight into individual student’s learning needs. View proficiency across a test group at a glance.
• Reports support teacher assessment and aid lesson planning by suggesting areas to focus on.
• Sense of achievement as their teaching is reflected by progress made.
• Teachers can see changes between test instances across the group and by student.

For students

• Engaging format and age-appropriate questions.
• 5 levels of test - questions are not too hard or too easy.
• Instructional videos guide students through the test.
• Certificates can be awarded by teacher to give sense of achievement.
• Feedback is provided so students understand abilities and next steps.

For Parents

• Each parent receives easy to understand feedback that can be used to support their child’s learning.
• Objective view of their child’s ability to support teacher judgement.
• Enjoyable experience for their child (tablet delivery is more fun, less formal, encourages a natural performance, motivational feedback and rewards).
• Independent validation but less expensive than a High Stakes test.

Scoring and Reports

• Scoring is done using GSE and based on students performance and output across all activities linked to a range of skills at a level. It is not based on scores on individual activities or specific skills.
• Scores are reliable because students stand a better chance of demonstrating their real ability across a range of activities. It is not pass/fail at an individual activity level.
• The scoring technology looks for elements such as range of vocabulary used, grammatical accuracy, fluency and pronunciation as well as performance on discrete skills.

Formative reports for teachers

• Teachers can view results reports for classes and students.
• Class reports summarise performance for each skill
• All reports provide
  - Performance summary statements (can dos)
  - Recommendations
  - Course specific activities
  - Learning objectives

Individual student reports

• Graphical representation of students scores by skill and their average across these
• Accompanied by detailed information on what the student can do and areas they need to work on, by skill and aligned to the GSE assessment descriptors.
• Additional reports available for parents (translatable to local languages) showing scores and suggestions for activities for students to work on at home.

Class reports

• Averages of scores by skill for whole class (summary of individual student results)
• Recommendations of what to focus on at whole class level (this will still need to be adjusted for individual students above or below the average).

Progress Reports

If multiple tests have been taken, teachers can see changes for a class or student. (Added post launch)
Remember: At least 120 hours of learning is required to see changes in progress
